PROGRESSIVE COMMUNITY OF NEWBERRY COUNTY

GLENN-LOWRY MFG. CO. ENLARGING PLANT.

Whitmire Will Have One of the Best Mills in South.—A Splendid Section.

It is doubtful if many of the people of Newberry, except those who live in the immediate vicinity, know or realize or appreciate the enormous development that is going on at the present time only eighteen miles away, in the pretty little town of Whitmire. Mr. William Coleman and those associated with him have already one of the best equipped mill plants in the State. Not satisfied with present conditions, some time ago work was begun on the enlarging of the plant to double its present capacity.

Only a few years ago the town of Whitmire was just a railroad station, with one or two stores and a few people and a small business all of which came as a result of the building of the Seaboard Air Line railroad along that way. Mr. William Coleman, who was educated for a lawyer, but who had the industrial spirit strongly developed, and who had faith in his country and especially this section, which is really the best section, decided to give up the law and embark in the industrial development of the South and contribute his share as a factor in the effort to bring the South into its own. As a result of this effort and determination on his part the Glenn-Lowry Manufacturing company entered the commercial world with 36,000 spindles and 900 looms and a capital representing more than half a million dollars, and began turning the great staple of the South into the manufactured article. His forbears had lived for generations just across the Enoree on the Union side and he and they owned large landed estates in that community and it is no doubt due to this fact that he decided on the present location, though it is ideal. The name of the company is in honor to the memory of Coleman and Rice being a combination of their middle names.

The mill as it stands now, as stated, has 36,000 spindles and 900 looms and when the new part now under construction is complete, being just double the present mill, will contain 66,000 spindles and 1,800 looms and will consume 200 bales of cotton per week. The goods manufactured is 68x72 fine sheeting and, therefore, the amount of cotton required is not as large as if the mill were run on a coarse grade of goods. It will probably be next to Olympia the largest mill under one roof in the State. The completed building will be 440 feet by 130 feet and will contain five floors. Besides the picker room, the machine shops and the opening room are all on the outside. On the new part the workmen are now on the third story. Not only is work in progress on the building of the mill but new streets are being opened and graded and nice neat houses for the operatives are in process of construction and when the mill is in operation about a thousand people will be added to the population of the town. The mill now employs about four hundred people.

The officers are:
William Coleman, president.
G. H. Leitner, superintendent.
R. R. Jeter, treasurer.
Thad W. Coleman, secretary.

Along with the building of the mill a national bank was established which was successfully operated until about four years ago when the charter was surrendered and a private banking corporation organized under the name of William Coleman and company, bankers, but with no capital stock except the credit of the corporators. This institution in four years has accumulated a surplus and undivided profit account of $44,707.06 and has a deposit account of $114,318.29 according to the last published statement required by the State bank examiner. Mr. W. R. Watson is cashier of the bank. There is also a handsome office and bank building which would do credit to a town of much greater pretensions. The town also has a handsome brick school building which has been erected at a cost of about seven thousand dollars and a good school is operated and it is the intention to put in during the present summer a State high school.

There are three churches in the town—Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian—served by regular pastors, besides a neat chapel in the mill village which is open to all denominations.

There are also a number of handsome and up-to-date stores which carry large and well selected stocks of goods.

I have made two visits to this town within the past two weeks the purpose being to co-operate with the people in the enlargement and development of their school facilities. The people are intelligent, liberal and broadminded and deeply concerned about the betterment of the school and it is hoped that arrangement may be made to establish a State high school. If this is not done this year it is only a matter of a little while and certainly during the coming school year there will be a school here second to none in the county. The enrollment the past year was 162 and the coming year it will be considerably more than this.

I drove through the country, leaving Newberry on Wednesday morning about six o'clock. The first stop was at the residence of Mr. C. S. Suber. We next stopped at the home of Mr. John M. Suber. He went with us to Whitmire and we returned to his home for dinner. And such a dinner. It was only such as the good people of Newberry know how to serve. I brought Irvin Feagle back with me and, my, how he did eat. And the fruit—the peaches and the plums—the trees breaking down with them. When I go out into the country like this and see all the good things to eat and the abundance of it all and the comforts and the growing crops and the freedom of country life I wonder once more why any one ever thinks of moving to town.

Irvin Feagle is going to build a bridge over one of the creeks up there—that is what he said he was doing up there. The bridge is needed and the roads need dragging and the holes need to be filled. Part of the way there had been good rains on Tuesday and some rain on Wednesday. It seems to me that the crops were looking well and in fine condition, though it has been so long since I farmed that I may not be a good judge. Irvin Feagle says that a rain that comes from the north or a northerly direction is injurious to a growing crop and only clouds with rain that come from the south or the west do good and that he always plants his corn in the dark of the moon. Well, I reckon he is a Dutchman and the Dutchman always knows.

E. H. A.
A Mountain Heroine.
From the Keowee Courier.

Clarence E. Gaillard, of Newry, was in Walhalla Monday, and during the day was looking after the interests of a young lady of his community who was in every sense of the word a heroine, and beyond question worthy of recognition at the hands of the Carnegie hero commission.

It will be remembered that about two weeks ago Miss Sophia Thompson, 17 years of age, rescued Eva Gregory 3 years of age, from a rabid dog that had attacked her, choking the animal and holding it down with her hands and knees until the Gregory child was freed. Miss Thompson was severely bitten and injured in carrying out her heroic efforts to save the victim of the dog's attack.

The Newry community is unanimous in praise of the little lady who threw herself into the very jaws of the ferocious beast to save the younger girl. She is deserving of the highest praise for her noble act, and nothing could be more appropriate than recognition at the hands of the Carnegie commission.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to show our appreciation and return our heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors for their aid and sympathies during the illness and death of our beloved mother, Mrs. A. J. Livingston. May kind Providence be as merciful and kind to you all as you have been to us.

Mrs. Paul West and son, Kennerly West, of Atlanta, Ga., are spending some time with Misses Garrie and Janie Douglass near Maybinton.

Miss Emma Hargrove, after a pleasant visit to friends here, has returned home.

Messrs John Henry Chappell and in town today.

The Glenn-Lowry Manufacturing James Henderson, of Newberry, are company gave their annual barbecue on July 4 to the mill operatives here. There was an abundance of finely barbecued meats, hash, Irish potatoes, pickles, loaf bread, lemonade, etc. Then the ladies carried picnic baskets. The large amount of good things left over was given to those who attended the barbecue. All of the people connected in any way with the Glenn Lowry Manufacturing company, and some invited friends from the country, were present. Mr. Wm. Coleman made a very pleasing address, speaking of the dignity of labor and urging the people to help build up the schools, churches and Sunday schools of our little town, and to cast the ballot for worthy men in the coming election. Mr. Coleman was introduced by Mr. Frank Fant, who made a short, but very attractive little speech. A baseball game between Whitmire and the Wylie mills, of Chester, was planned for the afternoon, but the rain interfered and the game was called off.

Our baseball team went up to Clinton Saturday afternoon and played with the team there. The game was decided in favor of Whitmire.

Mrs. Robert Neilson and two daughters, of Baltimore, Md., are visiting Mrs. Nielson's daughter, Mrs. Jno. R. Rosebro.

CARD FROM COL. DICKERT.

States He Is Sincerely in Earnest As Candidate For Senate—Will Discuss Records.

As there are some people, throughout the county, who seem to think my announcement as a candidate for the senate was done in a spirit of fun and mischief, I write this to say I was never more in earnest in my life. To allay all doubt, however, I have this day deposited in bank my assessment fee, payable to the order of F. H. Dominick, Esq., or to Frank R. Hunter. I have entered this race through no ill will, or malice to anyone, but on my own initiative and responsibility, and am no partizan of any clique or party, but stand on my own past record alone, and not on the demerits of my opponent. I have shied my castor in the ring. My lance in poise, will strike straight from the shoulder, but never below the belt. When the tourney begins, my friends and opponents will find me "at Philippi," eager and ready for the fray with "Lay on McDuff, and damn be he who first says, hold-enough." I shall discuss during the campaign all matters of public interest, openly, fairly and fearlessly, and no man need fear or doubt, as to where I stand. I shall eschew all personalities, confining myself strictly to public issues, and the public record of my opponent.

If in the last grand showdown I find myself a loser, the defeat will be accepted gracefully, and I will cheerfully abide the verdict of the majority. In that event, I will be among the first to congratulate my opponent in being the choice of the people of Newberry county.

Governor Blease to Probate Judge Schumpert.

The following letter is the governor's reply to the letter of resignation sent him by Judge of Probate Schumpert. Judge Schumpert appreciates governor Blease's sentiments expressed in this letter:

Columbia, July 9th, 1912.
Hon. Frank M. Schumpert, Newberry, South Carolina.

Dear Sir: Your letter of June 25th, tendering your resignation as Probate Judge for Newberry county, was duly received.

I regret to know that your health continues so bad, and sincerely hope that you will continue to improve until you feel yourself fully able to go on with the discharge of the duties of the very important position to which the people of your county have elected you.

Permit me to suggest that possibly an absence, at some health resort, of thirty or sixty days, would be of material benefit to you, and to add that if you think so, that it will give me much pleasure to grant you leave of absence from the State for such length of time as you may think will restore you to your usual good health.

With best wishes for a speedy return to perfect health, I am,

Very respectfully,

Cole. L. Blease,
Governor.

Woman's Auxiliary.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Newberry county hospital association will meet with Mrs. John M. Kinard Friday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

GOV. COLE L. BLEASE TO SPEAK AT POMARIA

NEWBERRY CONCERT BAND WILL FURNISH MUSIC.

Rev. J. A. Sligh, D. D., Will Preside. Good Barbecue Dinner Saturday, July 27.

Messrs. J. Walter Richardson and Geo. Richardson will give a barbecue on Saturday, July 27 at Pomaria. In addition to the barbecue, Governor C. L. Blease is expected to be present and address the people of that section. He will come on the morning train from Columbia and will return on the noon train so that his address will be delivered in the morning. Dr. J. A. Sligh, who for over forty years was pastor of the St. Pauls church in that section but who recently moved to Richland county near Columbia, will be present at this meeting and preside and present Governor Blease. In his presentation he will say a few words to the people of that community, all of whom have been his friends for a half century.

It is expected to be the largest gathering that will be held in Newberry county during this campaign. The barbecue makers are going to provide for such a crowd, and everybody is invited.

Candidate Ira B. Jones has also been invited but he has not been heard from him.

The Newberry Concert Band has agreed to furnish music for the day. It will be a busy day and a big crowd.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Interesting Meeting of Sunday School Convention of No. 10 Township At Bachman Chapel.

Slighs, July 10.—The Sunday schools of this (No. 10 township) met at Bachman Chapel Evangelical Lutheran church on last Saturday the 6th as was announced and organized a Sunday School convention for this township.

The program was carried out according to announcement and when the roll was called Little Mountain's delegates were the only ones to fail to answer.

President J. A. C. Kibler deserves special praise for the effort on his part in organizing this convention.

If any one doesn't receive some helpful information from listening to the discussion of such subjects as were discussed at this meeting it surely is their own fault.

A large crowd was present, the seating capacity of the church being about full.

After the discussion of the first two queries dinner was announced and every one present was invited to the table which was laden with the very best of eatables.

After dinner was finished part of the congregation reassembled to the inside of the church to complete the unfinished day's work. All five of the subjects were discussed well.

Four or five of the speakers were absent but substitutes were secured and the work carried along smoothly.

May this union meeting of all of the Sunday Schools of No. 10 township with the exception of one result in doing much good. May it be as seed sown in good ground and may the harvest be bountifully.

The land through this section is dry. The rains have been all-around us but we have had only light showers. Old corn is at a stage now that it needs a "good soaker." We are not getting impatient though. What's the use? Ours will come.

Cotton is not suffering much yet and is looking very well.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Wilson and little daughter spent last Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kinard and family.

Election of Officers.

Pulaski lodge, No. 20, I. O. O. F., at its last regular meeting, elected the following officers to serve the ensuing term:

J. H. Baxter, noble grand.
I. M. Sligh, vice grand.
W. G. Peterson, secretary.
Theo. Danielsen, treasurer.
